

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Writing Spot: Put yourself first for a change!

Learning Outcome

Describe unusual events through a wider range of B1 language in both work and social contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can write about staying healthy.
- I can organize points in an argument.
- I can express possibility and certainty.

Ask your partner:

- Do you think you live a healthy lifestyle?
- What do you think are ways to stay healthy? Exercise? Reducing stress?

Let's Explore!

There has been a lot written about the effects our busy lives have on our health.

* "Effect" means a change that results when something is done or happens.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Are you someone who is constantly looking after the needs of others?

Do you rarely dedicate time for exercise or regular medical check ups?

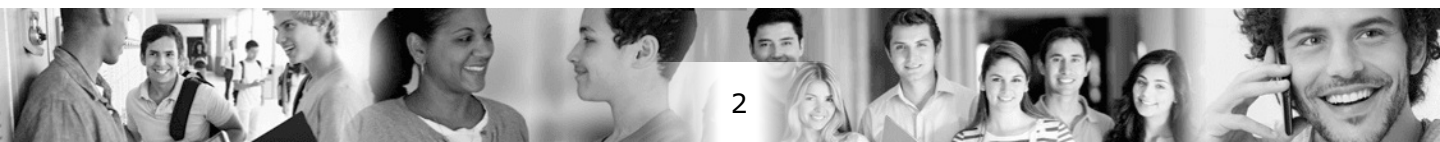

It has been often written by health experts that people have to look after themselves if they wish to live long, healthy lives.

There are a variety of reasons why people may decide against putting themselves first.

Some may perceive time outside the family as selfish. Oftentimes, people point to their never-ending family responsibilities. Others might find it a challenge to fit time for themselves into their busy work schedule.

Hectic lifestyles have been encouraging us to make poor choices. In fact, the less time you have to plan meals and follow a regular exercise program, the more likely you are to become overwhelmed and exhausted.

There are a number of things people must do to increase their longevity. These include increasing their cardiovascular fitness, ensuring that they are getting the recommended amount of sleep, monitoring their daily food intake and practicing forms of relaxation. In a world where the stress of daily living can take a toll, going for a brisk walk, going to a yoga class in the park or learning new healthy recipes can enhance our overall well-being. In addition, there are many health blogs and websites that have been created to provide tips and ideas for healthy living. Furthermore, health recommendations are provided on these sites as well. Carve out some time for yourself - you deserve it.

Let's Practice!

Do you know where to find important health information?

Instructions: Choose the words from the word bank to correctly complete the sentences.

Word Bank

Written / Healthy / Hectic / Living / Furthermore

1. It has been often _____ by health experts that people have to look after themselves if they wish to live _____ lives.
2. _____, health recommendations are provided on these sites as well.
3. There are many websites that have been created to provide information on healthy _____.
4. _____ lifestyles have been encouraging us to make poor choices.

Let's Practice!

Do you ever feel pulled in a hundred different directions*?

*"To be pulled a hundred different directions" means to be overwhelmed by too many responsibilities.

Instructions: Proofread the sentences. Circle the incorrect word. Write the correct word above to complete the sentence. Use capital letters where necessary.

1. Some may percive time outside the family as selfish.
2. Others might find it chalenge to fit in time for themselves within their busy work schedule.
3. It has been ofen writen by health experts that people have to look after themselves if they wish to live long, healthy lives.
4. There are a number of things people could do to increese their longevyty.
5. It must be had to be pulled in a hundred diferent directions.

Extension Activity

Are you ready for an argument?

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write a 120-150 word paragraph either agreeing or disagreeing with the following motion:
The media has influenced people to consume unhealthy products.
- Use at least 3 linking words like In fact, ... , and Also, ...
- Use paragraph structure. Proofread your argument.
- Read your argument aloud to a partner.
- What does your partner think of your argument? Is it convincing?

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write a text agreeing or disagreeing about health.

☐ ☐

I use linking words to connect ideas.

☐ ☐

I read my argument aloud to a partner and ask for feedback.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to dedicate (verb): to decide that something will be used for a special purpose
e.g. Do you rarely dedicate time for exercise or regular medical check ups?
- to perceive (verb): to notice or become aware of something e.g. Some may perceive time outside the family as selfish.
- cardiovascular fitness (noun): the fitness of your heart
e.g. You need to increase your cardiovascular fitness.
- to monitor (verb): to watch, observe, listen to, or check for a special purpose over a period of time
e.g. The doctor monitored the patient's vital signs.
- daily food intake (noun): the amount of energy from food that you consume in one day e.g. Your daily food intake should be looked at.
- to take a toll (expression): to cause damage or wear by hard living e.g. Too much stress can take a toll on anyone.
- to carve out (expression): to find time or space for something
e.g. Carve out some time for yourself.

Learning Points

Organizing Points in an Argument

You use linking words to help you organize what you have written in a text. It also helps you introduce and develop essential ideas.

Linking words help you to connect ideas and sentences, so that people can follow your ideas.

Here are some examples:

- On the other hand
- In fact
- Of course
- In addition

Examples:

- In fact, the less time you have to plan meals and follow a regular exercise program, the more likely you are to become overwhelmed and exhausted.
- In addition, there are many health blogs and websites that are written to provide information, tips and ideas.
- Running in a cold climate is difficult for some people; on the other hand, it may improve their performance.
- Of course, your mom needs to know where you go.

Learning Points

Modals for Possibility and Certainty

You use modals when you want to express possibility and certainty.

You use may, might and could to express possibility in the past and in the future.

Might* suggests that something is less possible than may.

- might / might not + infinitive
- could / could not + infinitive
- may / may not + infinitive

Expressing Certainty

You use must to express that something is necessarily true.

Example:

There are a number of things people must do to increase their longevity.

Examples:

- Others might find it a challenge to fit in time for themselves within their busy work schedule. Hectic lifestyles encourage us make poor choices.
- Some may perceive time outside the family as selfish and unwarranted.

