

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

I want to get my life back on track!

Learning Outcome

Describe unusual events through a wider range of B1 language in both work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Are there any changes you want to make to your daily routine? What are they?
- Do you think it's easy to make significant changes to your lifestyle? Why or why not?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about staying healthy.
- I can talk about what was happening when something else happened.
- I can talk about future plans.

Let's Explore!

One of Sally's readers wants to get his life back on track. How will he do it?

* To "get your life back on track" means to improve your life.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

While I was checking my e-mail, I saw a note from a devoted reader. In it he mentions that he is going to make a big change in his lifestyle. Do you think you could do something similar?

I was looking through my photos on Facebook when I became disgusted with my appearance. I was shocked at how downtrodden I looked. That wasn't me! I guess what was in my head didn't translate to how I treated myself. I knew I had to make a change. I used this realization as an impetus to create a strict set of rules to follow to get my life back on track. Here they are:

1. I'm going to drink a glass of water before every meal. Everyone needs to drink more water. Plus, when I drink a glass of water before I eat I'll feel a little more full and won't be as tempted to overeat.
2. I'm going to use my lunch to be active. I'm going to make my lunch break productive. I'll go for a walk, stretch or do some sit-ups. I'll burn a few calories, burn off some stress, and feel better when I get back to work. I'll also start to make fitness a part of my daily lifestyle.
3. Lastly, I'm going to focus on accomplishments when it comes to exercise, rather than tasks. Instead of telling myself to walk 5 miles on the treadmill, I'll redirect that focus to walking home from work, or hiking up the local peak.

Let's Practice!

Sally was checking her email when she saw a message she wanted to share in her blog.

Instructions: Draw a line to match the sentences in Column A and Column B.

COLUMN A

1. Sally was checking her email
2. This guy became disgusted
3. He realized
4. He wasn't treating himself correctly
5. He was thinking about the things to do

COLUMN B

- a. so he decided to make a big change.
- b. when he created a set of rules for his life.
- c. when she saw a note from a regular reader.
- d. he wasn't doing enough to keep a good physical condition.
- e. while he was looking through his photos.

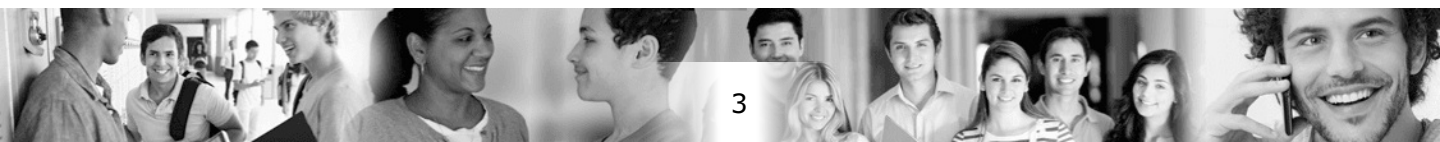

Let's Practice!

Sally sent a voice message to a friend about this blog entry.

Instructions: Read the text again. Circle the correct word to complete the sentence.

1	2	3	4	5
downtrodden	translate	health	Conditional physics	class
downtrodden	transfer	healths	Physical condition	gum
down	trail	habits	Physics condition	gym

Hi! I had a similar situation some time ago. I was looking at myself in the mirror when I felt ₁ _____. What I saw in the mirror didn't ₂ _____ how I wanted to feel. I was worried about my ₃ _____. I said to myself, "I'll get a better ₄ _____". I started running every day, and I'm going to join a ₅ _____ soon. And now, I definitely feel better!

Extension Activity

Write three ways to improve your health every day.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Think about three ways to make your day healthier.
- Write down your ideas and add some details to each.
- Share them with your partner. Do you have similar ideas?

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write about ways to improve my life.

☐ ☐

I add details to each idea.

☐ ☐

I discuss my ideas with a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- devoted (adjective): loyal; caring
e.g. I saw a note from a devoted reader.
- peak (noun): the pointed top of a mountain
e.g. I'll hike up the local peak.
- downtrodden (adjective): oppressed; with low energy
e.g. I was shocked at how downtrodden I looked.
- to translate (verb): to explain in an easy way; to interpret e.g. That didn't translate to how I treated myself.
- realization (noun): the act of understanding something e.g. I used this realization to create my regimen.
- impetus (noun): impulse; a force that moves someone into action
e.g. I had an impetus to create a strict set of rules to follow.
- to overeat (verb): to eat in excess
e.g. If I drink water, I won't be tempted to overeat.
- to burn (verb): to use energy, especially calories
e.g. I'll burn a few calories.

Learning Points

The Future with Will and Be Going To

You can use different tenses to talk about the future.

When you want to talk about facts or things you believe to be true about the future, you use will.

For example:

When I drink a glass of water before I eat, I'll feel a little more full and won't be as tempted to overeat.

When you talk about intentions, you use be going to. These are things that you have thought about and predict for the future.

For example:

I'm going to do everything I can to get in shape.*

Will

- I won't go on being inadequate and lethargic.
- I'll be lucky if I can run around the block.
- In a couple of months, I'll be able to run a few miles.

Be Going to

- I'm going to buy myself a bicycle.
 - First of all, I'm going to begin running.
 - My friend George is going to run with me.
-

Learning Points

The Past Continuous Tense and the Simple Past Tense

You use the Past Continuous tense to talk about an action that was happening at a time before now.

You use the Simple Past to talk about a finished past action.

You can use the Past Continuous to:

- Describe the atmosphere at a particular time in the past.

For example:

The children were laughing and the birds were singing in the park. A woman was looking for her phone, which she dropped somewhere ...

- Describe an action that was interrupted by another event or action

For example:

I was looking through my photos on Facebook when I became disgusted with my appearance.*

The form of the Past Continuous is:

Subject + was/were + verb -ing

You use the Simple Past to talk about a shorter action or event that happened in the middle of, or interrupted, the longer action.

While I was checking my email, I saw a note from a devoted reader.

Examples:

- While I was checking my email, I saw a note from a devoted reader.
- I was looking through my photos on Facebook when I became disgusted with my appearance.

